

LOOK MA,
NO STRAW!

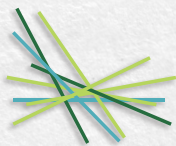

Straws Literally Upon Request Policy

Straw pollution is a biiiiiig problem. Local restaurants can be a biiiiiig part of the solution by adopting SLURP — a Straws Literally Upon Request Policy—and only giving straws to customers who ask for them.

Help reduce plastic straw waste.

Americans use 500 million straws a day—that's enough to circle the globe 2.5 times!!

Straws end up in already congested landfills and in our oceans.

Plastic straws are entirely non-biodegradable so they crowd our environment forever.
